

Mile High Otolaryngology

Financial Agreement

The doctors in this office are specialists in the area of otolaryngology. A specialist office visit is often more expensive than a visit to a primary care physician. Many health insurance companies require you, as the patient, to obtain a referral from your primary care physician in order to visit a specialist. It is important that you understand the requirements your insurance has established in order for your consultation with a specialist to be a covered benefit.

If, for any reason, your insurance company denies payment for services rendered by the physicians at Mile High Otolaryngology, it then becomes the responsibility of the patient or guarantor to pay for those services.

If you have health insurance, copayment is expected at the time services are rendered. It is important to understand that many times copayment for specialist office consultations are priced higher than the copayment for your primary care doctor. If your health insurance has a deductible, you will be billed for the cost of services per the contracted rate your insurance company has established with our office.

If you are a self-pay patient, please note that payment is due at the time services are rendered unless arrangements have been made prior to the appointment.

Additionally, please note that there will be a $25.00 fee for returned checks.

Patients with delinquent accounts may be terminated as patients at Mile High Otolaryngology, and the accounts could be turned over to our collection agency.

Should you receive a bill and/or have any questions regarding your account, please contact our office. We will be happy to answer any questions you have.

I have read and understand the payment agreement, and agree to the terms it sets forth.
